TO WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:

Enotas local fraternity at the University of South Florida has achieved distinction in a broad area of accomplishment: service, campus leadership, scholarship and intramurals.

Projects to "keep U.S.F. green and clean," ushering for university occasions, and service to fellow students such as new students moving into residence have symbolized Enotas's desire to serve the university community.

While maintaining a respectable academic average (2.32 for pledges and 2.34 for actives on a 4.00 scale), Enotas has participated in activities with outstanding success. They have won the intramural championship for the second year in a row.

Enotas has provided leadership in numerous areas such as presidencies of the Student Association, Inter-fraternity Council, and Inter-Residence Council. They have provided two Senators to the All-University Senate. Their members have served as counselors in residence, in paid staff positions. One of their members served with distinction as the Treasurer and Chairman of the Student Association and Finance Committee which prepared the University student activities budget, 1966-67.

This group has high morale, strong advisement, and a record of stability of membership and program.

Sincerely,

Herbert J. Wunderlich
Dean of Student Affairs

INTRODUCTION

The men of Enotas Fraternity have assembled and are presenting the information contained in the following pages of this booklet for the purpose of acquainting the reader with the role of Enotas Fraternity in the University Community.

Since its formation in 1960 Enotas Fraternity has had as its underlying goal, fulfillment of the six basic fraternity criteria as developed by the National Interfraternity Council. They are:

- I. That the objectives and activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institution.
- II. That the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student in his relations with his institution are to the institution, and that the association of any group of students as a fraternity involves the definite responsibility of the group for the conduct of the individual.
- III. That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.
- IV. That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.
- V. That the fraternity should maintain sanitary, safe, and wholesome physical conditions in its living areas.
- VI. That the fraternity should inculcate principles of sound business practice both in chapter finances and in the business relations of its members.

The Brotherhood of Enotas Fraternity has, in fact, met and exceeded the challenge of the above criteria.

This booklet was prepared in an objective manner as a guide to Enotas Fraternity leaving the reader to make his own evaluation.

HISTORY

Enotas Fraternity was organized in the fall of 1960. At first, athletic participation was the primary goal of the eleven charter members. As the year passed, the new brothers met a tremendous challenge. This task was that of laying the foundations of a fraternal organization. With hard work and determination Enotas Fraternity began to emerge. Early in 1961, Enotas was granted its charter by the University. The charter members and officers are:

Bert Marshall - President
Allen Freeman - Vice President
John Ward - Treasurer
Ken Keebler - Secretary
David Aycock - Chaplin
John Bell - Pledge Master
Dickie Houghton
Edward Hill
Robert Pritchard
James Wells
David Ivey

The scholastic year 1961-62 was one of many firsts for the newly chartered fraternity and for the University. With the initiation of the charter pledge class, the fraternity gained in enthusiasm and energy. In the spring of 1962, Enotas pledged its second and largest pledge class; thirty-two sophomores. During this same period, Enotas brothers entered into the political activity of the campus when Frank Meiners and David Aycock were elected Vice President and Treasurer respectively of the Student Association. Also initiated during this period were two service projects: Keep U.S.F. Campus Clean, and the sponsoring of an orphan in Lakeland. The brothers again experienced success in athletics, winning the first intramurals championship.

1961 - 1962 Officers:

David Ivey - President
Ken Keebler - Vice President
John Ward - Treasurer
Dickie Houghton - Secretary
Edward Hill - Chaplin
John Bell - Pledge Master

The scholastic year of 1962-63 was a year of continued success for the members of Enotas Fraternity. The social calendar of the fraternity improved with major functions at the Phi Delta Kappa house, the International Inn, and an authentic Hawaiian Luau. The fraternity continued to support the orphan in Lakeland and also added a Coke sale at the Gasparilla Parade to its list of service projects. Frank Meiners, Charter pledge, continued his success in University politics by being elected President of the Student Association. The olive blazer of Enotas became a part of campus dress as did the gold and black jersey on the intramural fields. During the year 1962-63, the fraternity was runner-up champion in intramurals.

1962 - 1963 Officers:

James Bobbit - President
John Ward - Vice President
Pete Doyal - Treasurer
Donald Weithers - Recording Secretary
Lew Wallace - Corresponding Secretary
Dickie Houghton - Chaplin
John Bell - Pledge Master

The scholastic year 1963-64 was one of shifting emphasis for the members of Enotas Fraternity. The membership was growing in maturity and therefore, greater stress was placed on academic endeavors. The test file was started and proved to be of tremendous benefit to the brothers. Not only did the brothers experience success academically, but they continued to demonstrate the desire to win in Greek Week activities and intramural sports. Once again the fraternity sold Cokes at the Gasparilla Parade. That year, twenty per cent of the profits went to the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, twenty per cent to the U.S.F. Scholarship Foundation and the remainder of the profits were placed in a nationalization fund.

1963 - 1964 Officers:

John Ward - President and Chaplin
Frank Meiners - Vice President
Robert Gadsden - Treasurer
Joseph Hill - Recording Secretary
Bill Terry - Corresponding Secretary
James Coplon - Pledge Master

INTERNAL ORGANIZATION AND STRUCTURE

Officers

President	Parliamentarian
Vice President	Pledgemaster
Treasurer	I.F.C. Representative
Recording Secretary	Chaplin
Corresponding Secretary

All officers must maintain a 2.0 GPR to be eligible for election, and must have been an active brother for at least one trimester. Normally, we elect individuals who have been active brothers for two trimesters, as they have a greater working knowledge of all aspects of the fraternity.

The President, Vice President, and Treasurer are elected in December for a period of one year. The remaining officers are elected each trimester. Because six officers are elected each trimester, more men are able to gain a working knowledge of the administration of a fraternity or almost any organization which they might later encounter. This we feel is valuable training in leadership techniques. We encourage brothers and pledges to attend the Leadership Training programs sponsored by the University Center for application in the fraternity.

Executive Council

Composed of all the officers with the Vice President acting as chairman.

The Executive Council presents to the fraternity for approval dues, assessments, and fines which shall cover the necessary areas of income.

The Executive Council acts as the "governing body" of the fraternity.

The Executive Council meets each trimester as a Finance Committee.

High Court

Composed of Vice President acting as Chief Justice and four other brothers appointed by the President.

The High Court handles all cases of conduct and violations of the constitution and/or by-laws.

Fines or suspension or any other disciplinary action or any combination of the three shall be considered just action for violating moral, social, or legal standards. Appeals are heard by the Executive Council.

Committees

Athletic	History
Alumni	Publicity
Chariot	Rush
Greek Week	Scholarship
Initiation	Social
Nationalization	Spirit
Projects

Committees play an especially important role in Enotas leadership training program. Experience gained through committee work prepares each brother for accepting positions of greater responsibility. Committee chairmen are appointed after serving for one or more trimesters on that committee. Near the end of each pledge period, we allow each pledge to choose one or more committees he wishes to serve on, so that he can immediately become aware of the functioning of that committee.

Meetings are held once each week and average two to three hours in length. All meetings are conducted by Sturgis' Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure. The Parliamentarian is empowered to fine brothers for absense, tardiness, or rowdiness.

Organization of Enotas Fraternity

FINANCIAL STRUCTURE

The financial standing of Enotas Fraternity is based upon soundly advised management and long established constitutionally defined procedures of collection. This foundation has produced a financially sound fraternity. We have a consistent record of good credit while dealing extensively throughout the Tampa business community. Operating on budgets ranging from $2,000 to $2,500 each trimester, our program is the largest and most comprehensive of any fraternity on campus. This record reflects our belief that a fraternity cannot be strong and worthy of its name unless it has a sound financial base to stand on.

To insure the continued soundness of this base, before each trimester begins the Executive Council meets with our advisor as a budget committee to allocate expenses for the coming trimester. Two main considerations are an integral part of this budgetary planning. The committee attempts to insure that projected expenses will match expected revenues. We do not believe that it is the fraternity's business to make a profit from its members nor do we believe in spending more money than is available. We have consistently maintained beginning and ending working capital balances of 20% of our total budget for the trimester. These funds are used as a reserve for the beginning of the next trimester's expenses.

Our sources of funds generate from three major areas. The heaviest concentration is dependant upon our dues which are set at twenty-five dollars per trimester. In addition to these dues, we obtain funds from our projects. The projects committee, each trimester, is responsible for planning at least one fund raising project. In the past, the major portion of this money has been reserved for expected nationalization expenses. Currently over eleven hundred dollars has been placed in savings for this purpose. The pledges, with the guidance of the projects committee, hold a fund raising project in addition to the brotherhood's. These funds are appropriated to cover pledge class expenses, and are administered by the pledge class treasurer under the guidance of the chapter treasurer. Our final source of funds is generated from fines and assessments. Although our fine system is not designed for the purpose of producing revenue, in its operation some revenue is produced. This money, in general, is always appropriated to the current trimesters expenses, therefore, benefiting the group as a whole during the period in which the infractions occurred. In addition to the fines, there is a small amount of revenue generated from assessments. It states in our by-laws that assessments other than those which might be termed purchases are not allowed. In following this principle, we operate on a no assessment basis. The only funds received from assessments come from the sale of party favors. They are generally sold at half cost to the brothers.

In order for the funds compiled from these three sources to be effectively used, our procedure of collection is of primary consideration. This leads to the second basis of our financial soundness. Our by-laws define a strong and effective method of collection.* From the date debts are payable to the fraternity, a member has three weeks for payment. Each week he is delinquent he must pay a 10% interest charge on a graduated scale. Therefore, in the third week he will pay interest at the rate of 30%. After three weeks the brother who is delinquent is brought before the High Court for suspension and can be expelled if the debt is not cleared. We are of the opinion that in order to operate with fairness to all and any degree of soundness, that a financial policy of this nature is necessary. If a brother has extenuating circumstances that prevent his fulfillment of his financial obligations, he can take his case before the High Court. The court will decide upon his circumstances and afford whatever adjustment they think is warranted. Responsibility in meeting financial obligations is stressed not only on a chapter level but also on an individual basis.

We are proud of our strong financial foundation, and we hope that this has given an insight into the process by which it has been achieved. Our current standing is outlined in the financial statements which follow this report.

RUSH PROGRAM

The Interfraternity Council of the University of South Florida sponsors two rush programs each year. The first of these is in the fall, approximately four weeks after the trimester has begun. This rush is primarily for junior college transfers and outstanding Sophomores and Juniors. First trimester Freshmen are deferred until they have completed 12 hours. During this program, we emphasize primarily scholarship, since these men are interested in the mature facets of fraternity life.

The Spring Rush is composed mainly of Freshmen who have completed 12 hours satisfactorily with a 2.0 GPR during their first trimester. This rush is generally much larger than the fall rush, because most freshmen are eligible to rush. During this period, we stress leadership and social activities, since we are attempting to reach a younger group.

During both rushes, there are many ideas and accomplishments we emphasize. We point out that fraternity life is not too demanding to maintain above average grades and that Enotas requires from its brothers and pledges academic performance on a level that is necessary for graduation. We also stress the fact that Greeks, and particularly Enotas brothers, are the campus leaders, and that a good deal of leadership training and experience can be attained through work in the fraternity. Next, we point out the opportunities for participation in intramural sports which are available in fraternities and particularly in Enotas fraternity. One of the most important facets which we stress in our fraternity is the closeness and spirit of our brotherhood. This we achieve through our actions and relations with each other, and we find it unnecessary to have to make flowery proclamations to the rushee. Above all, Enotas stresses individual expression in opinions, beliefs, and activities. We believe in assisting the individual to develop along the lines which fit his particular talents.

In addition to these I.F.C. sponsored programs which last approximately one week, we also conduct a year-round rush. Our year-round rushing program has several aspects. One of these is rush parties in the summer and early fall. The intention of these parties is not only to become more acquainted with the prospective rushees, but to provide a means by which rushees can become familiar with our fraternity and fraternity life. Later in the fall and in the spring, we continue our rush parties with the emphasis on freshmen and sophomores.

A second aspect of our year-round rushing involves each brother and pledge visiting his local high school and/or junior college and obtaining a list of men transferring or planning to attend the University. These lists are accumulated in our permanent rushee file. Members of the rush committee correspond with these men describing the University, the fraternity system, and particularly Enotas.

Still a third aspect involves parties again, but this time summer rush parties at the homes of brothers around the state. The rush chairman notifies brothers in a particular locality about the rushees in that area. The brothers, be it one or five, plan a party at one of the brothers' homes and invite rushees from that city and other brothers and rushees from near by localities. An example of this type of rush function was the one held in Ft. Lauderdale last summer. The party was attended by about 25 brothers and rushees, with many of the guests coming from as far as Tampa. During the following two rushes, we pledged five men from that area of the state.

Of course, after a man is pledged, these points are not forgotten. They are ever present throughout the man's pledge period. A university policy is that a pledge maintain 12 hours with a 2.0 during his pledgship; therefore, our pledges are constantly reminded to uphold their grades. We realize that a properly trained pledge builds a strong chapter and we feel our rush program is one of the keys to our continued success.

PLEDGE TRAINING PROGRAM

Definition and Objectives:

The pledge training program begins as soon as a rushee is pledged and continues until he is initiated into the brotherhood.

The goals of the pledge training program are:

- (a) To give the pledge knowledge of the ideas, goals, and traditions upon which Enotas Fraternity is based.
- (b) To instill in the pledge a desire for learning and academic achievement to his greatest potential.
- (c) To provide the pledge with an opportunity to develop leadership abilities through actual experience.
- (d) To acquaint the pledge with all facets of the University community, while stressing loyalty and service to the institution.
- (e) To provide an example of the democratic process in action thus instilling good citizenship and patriotism.
- (f) To develop the pledges personality, social conduct, and character.

Organization:

The responsibility for completion of the objectives outlined above, is assumed by the Pledgemaster. This individual is elected by the brotherhood and must have been an active brother of the fraternity for at least four semesters. The Pledgemaster directs the entire program with the help of the Assistant Pledgemaster.

One of the most important phases of the program is training the pledges for future leadership positions. This is accomplished by providing the pledge with an actual opportunity to lead. The pledge class elects its own officers who, after becoming familiar with the fraternity and the program, are given the additional responsibilities of planning, organizing and directing pledge class activities. Of course, the pledge class officers are continually advised and directed by the Pledgemaster. The officers of the pledge class are: President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Historian.

In addition to the pledge class officers, three full time pledge committees handle pledge activities. The committees are: athletic, service projects, and fund raising.

Big Brother System:

Outstanding brothers are selected each semester to serve as advisors to the incoming pledges. These selections are made on the basis of academic standing, major field of study, time available, and degree of activity in the fraternity.

The Pledgemaster, in conjunction with the Pledge Advisory Board, appoints an outstanding brother to advise each pledge. This matching of pledge and brother is accomplished in light of the above criteria.

The functions of the big brother are:

- (a) To advise and assist the pledge in completing the requirements for initiation.
- (b) To meet with the pledge several times a week to keep him well informed of fraternity activities.
- (c) To represent the pledge before the High Court and the brotherhood.

Pledge Manual:

Each pledge is provided with, and is required to learn, the Enotas Pledge Manual.

The Pledge Manual is a twenty page booklet consisting of the following information:

- (a) A history of the Fraternity
- (b) A complete description of the chapter and pledge class organization and structure
- (c) All financial requirements
- (d) All obligations and requirements of the pledge class and the individual pledge
- (e) An outline of the Sturgis' Rules of Order
- (f) A statement of the rights of an Enotas pledge
- (g) A discussion on gentlemanly conduct
- (h) An explanation of the big brother system
- (i) Information pertaining to the origin and development of national fraternities
- (j) A complete schedule of University and Fraternity events
- (k) A complete roster of active brothers, graduates, and alumni, including information such as: addresses, major field of study, etc.
- (l) A graphic description of the role of the fraternity in the University community.

Program:

The pledge period is from fourteen to sixteen weeks in duration depending on rush and initiation dates. During this period the pledge must complete all requirements satisfactorily. If these requirements are not met, the pledge is repledged the following trimester. The following are the basic requirements of an Enotas pledge.

- (a) The pledge must complete 12 credit hours with a minimum GPR of 2.0 for the grading period during which he is pledged.
- (b) The pledge must thoroughly know all sections of the pledge manual. A pledge is required to demonstrate his knowledge of this manual by averaging at least 70% on the five periodic exams plus a minimum score of 75% on the final exam.
- (c) The pledge must meet all financial obligations. These are:

Pledge Dues	$15.00
Initiation Fee	10.00
- (d) The pledge must participate in at least 60% of all social activities, 100% of all service projects, and 75% of all athletic events, unless such participation interferes with scholastic achievement.
- (e) The pledge must be present at all study halls if living on campus or within a radius of five miles of the university. If a pledge lives outside this radius, he must study a commensurate amount of time at his residence.
- (f) The pledge must demonstrate to the brotherhood:
 - (1) That he conducts himself as a gentleman.
 - (2) That he is willing and eager to advance the interests of the university and the fraternity.
 - (3) That he practices emotional control, proper verbal behavior, and acceptable public appearance.
 - (4) That he actively participates in college and community activities.
 - (5) That he will perform cheerfully whatever tasks may be assigned to him for the good of the fraternity.
 - (6) That he accepts every member of Enotas without reservation or evasion.

SCHOLASTIC PROGRAMS

From the beginning, Enotas Fraternity realized that its success as a fraternity depended upon the academic success of both brothers and pledges. Consequently, scholarship has been a primary goal of the fraternity. To meet this objective, pledging is limited only to those men who have completed 12 hours with a 2.0 GPR. This in itself is certainly an incentive for men who are interested in affiliating with the fraternity. The university has established standards for national fraternities, one of which specifies that pledges must have 24 hours with a 2.0 GPR before initiation into brotherhood. In anticipation of this standard, our fraternity instituted this requirement during the fall of 1965, thus providing incentive for pledges to maintain their grades.

Another program initiated by Enotas to help pledges and brothers maintain their grades is the study hall system. Study hall for pledges is under a system of supervision by designated brothers who are qualified to lend academic assistance. Study hall for brothers is under the honor system.

Still another method of providing incentive for scholarship is personal competition between the pledges. This competition comes in the form of two academic awards given to pledges at the end of the pledge period. These awards are presented to the pledge for the highest GPR and for the most improved GPR.

After initiation, equivalent levels of academic performance are demanded of the brothers. Any brother who is not in good standing with the university cannot be considered "active" in the fraternity, as stipulated by the fraternity by-laws. Brothers with below a 2.0 GPR are encouraged to avoid extra activities, such as a job, athletics, or committee work. This encouragement is, in most cases, sufficient to maintain a level of adequate performance required by the university and the fraternity.

The fraternity has a large test file at the disposal of the brothers. At this university, texts and tests are continually changing, so that old tests are used primarily to gain insight into material stressed, types of questions, etc.

In addition, the services of the more astute brothers are made available to members with scholastic difficulty for tutoring, advising, and counseling. The men with the higher grades assist others in planning a budget of study time, learning how to study appropriately, and how to present the proper image to professors.

The success of the above outlined program has been exemplified by the fraternity's continually increasing grade point average.

SERVICE ACTIVITIES AND PROJECTS

Enotas projects are designed to serve two purposes. The first and foremost goal deals with service projects. This category can be subdivided into service to the university and the community. The second purpose of these projects is to earn money for brotherhood activities. Within these two groups, it is necessary to subdivide the projects into brotherhood and pledge projects.

I. Brotherhood Projects:

An important community project which the brothers participated in was our care for an orphan. The orphan was a boy with whom the brothers frequently visited. We were making his life happier in supplying the basic necessities to one who was less fortunate. The boy was recently adopted which gave our brotherhood great satisfaction. Another community project is our Gasparilla Parade Coke Sale which is a joint service/finance project.

With regard to University service, we stress two projects. One of these is our annual campus clean up project. We named this Enotas "Help Keep USF Campus Green and Clean Week." On the way to classes or between classes, the brothers stop to pick up all litter thus helping to beautify our campus while encouraging other students to do the same. The other project of importance is our luggage moving program. For the full week prior to the first and last day of classes our brothers transport luggage for occupants of the three women's dormitories; Gamma, Delta, and Epsilon. This project saves the time and energy of many parents and new students, plus offering the student an opportunity to become acquainted with the fraternity. This is one of our best advertised and most entertaining projects. The fraternity also holds car washes and doughnut sales, with the proceeds going to the National Defense Education Assistance Scholarship Fund for the University of South Florida. For every dollar earned at these projects and contributed to the University, the government contributes ten dollars to the NDEA Fund. Thus, if the project makes twenty dollars the total amount deposited in the fund for scholarship use is two hundred and twenty dollars.

Most money making projects are held off campus in the surrounding community. Examples are the afore-mentioned Gasparilla Parade Coke Sale, as well as doughnut sales, and car washes.

II. Pledge Projects

The pledges of Enotas are always engaged in service to the university and the community. An example of these projects is the bi-weekly entertainment of underprivileged children living in a nearby orphan's home. Our pledges take boys-age nine through thirteen-from the North Hillsborough County Orphanage to Lake Mineola. They arrive around ten o'clock and remain until around four o'clock. While at the lake, the pledges teach the boys how to swim, ski, play volleyball, football and other sports. After a fun filled time, the boys are treated to a hot dog and hamberger feast.

The pledges also participate in our Gasparilla Parade Coke Sale. They operate one stand while the brothers operate the other. The pledges, like the brothers, participate in doughnut sales and car washes to add to the university scholarship fund. They again help the brothers with our clean up campaign.

Pledges help the brothers with all money raising projects plus having a separate project. This is commonly called the pledge "Slave Sale." In this project each pledge agrees to work for a professor or staff member. The pledge works an eight hour day for the individual thus accomplishing the dual purpose of furthering the name of the fraternity and earning additional funds. For this work the pledge earns ten dollars which is deposited into the pledge treasury, a separate entity from the brother's account that is used for pledge activities.

An objective of all Enotas projects, whether they be service or money raising, is to unite brothers and pledges for common causes-the most important of which is service to community and university. When these men get together and work toward a common goal, a definite relationship emerges and brotherhood is obtained.

Another point is the high degree of participation. Enotas always have a large turnout for all projects. This is just one aspect of the fraternity of which Enotas is proud.

SPORTS PROGRAMS

The University of South Florida, as a young institution, has not ventured into major intercollegiate athletics as have most of the other, more well-established universities. Consequently, the University of South Florida has developed one of the strongest intramural programs in the nation. Intramurals have, in a sense, taken the place of major intercollegiate athletics. Considerable emphasis is placed on the intramural program by both the university and students. It is not uncommon to find 500 to 700 students attending an intramural football or basketball event.

From the infancy of this intramural program in 1960 emerged a team known as the Desert Rats. This team was a winning team because they had the desire to excel--and this desire to excel brought a closeness among them--this closeness was the beginning of ENOTAS Fraternity. From the very beginning, ENOTAS has long stood for supremacy in the area of intramurals on the South Florida campus. The desire to excel and the bond of brotherhood that developed on the playing field is still as strong in every brother as it was five years ago.

ENOTAS is now a member of the Fraternity League, the others being the Independent and Dormitory Leagues. The championship in each sport is determined by a play-off between the champions and runners-up in each league. We take pride in the fact that most of these play-offs, in every sport, will always have an ENOTAS team in it--and still greater pride in the fact that ENOTAS wins most of these play-offs.

We believe that the main reason for this constant excellence, as exhibited by our winning the I-M Championship three times and placing second the other two times, is the desire to participate that is exhibited not only by the players but also by the brothers on the sidelines. Any I-M game in which an ENOTAS team is fielded will find an actively enthusiastic group of brothers, pledges, and other independent supporters on the sidelines to cheer them on. This brotherhood has not only won the I-M Championship three times, but has won the Fraternity League Championship five consecutive times.

ENOTAS has not achieved this fine record at the expense of other more important areas such as academic achievement and leadership training activities. Rather, it is because the brothers of ENOTAS always take the court, field or diamond with the intention of winning. ENOTAS play to win--and most of the time they do.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Enotas is proud of the training in social graces and etiquette available to its brothers and pledges. Our social events have this ideal as an underlying goal.

Rarely does a weekend pass without some type of social function for the brothers. If not a fraternity-sponsored party, one of the brothers will open the doors of his home for a Bar-B-Que, Luau, Bridge Party, or a Saturday-night Rush Party. Some of these same brothers again display their hospitality for Ski Parties and other Saturday-afternoon events.

We have an established tradition of social events. In November, we hold the Fall Ball at a large local hotel; in March, the Buccaneer Revelry, also in the ballroom or a hotel. Once each Trimester, the fraternity has a Pledge Party to honor the new affiliates. Throughout the year, the fraternity sponsors rush parties to acquaint potential rushees with the fraternity. Of course, there are many parties and events, at which, just the brothers enjoy each others companionship.

Other social events include coffee hours, sponsored by the fraternity, where brothers host a sorority, the President of the University or the Alumnus. Also, the fraternity has an Awards Banquet. Here brothers honor pledges for completing their pledge training, recognize outstanding brothers for service and hear some noted speakers. These events are held at least once a year.

ENOTAS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Enotas Alumni Association began with the graduation of the first brother in December of 1963. Since its founding, all graduating brothers have taken considerable interest in the activities and goals of the association.

Providing graduates with a means of association with the undergraduate chapter, while continuing the personal associations of undergraduate years is a primary objective of the alumni organization. This objective is accomplished through alumni participation in the social and administrative activities of the undergraduate chapter plus business meetings and social events on the graduate level.

Another primary purpose of the Alumni Association is to direct the undergraduate chapter in the pursuit of the ideas, standards, and goals as established by the founders. In order to accomplish this objective, alumni take an active interest in all fraternity activities, assist in the accomplishment of objectives, provide experienced guidance in fraternity administration, and participate in undergraduate training.

The undergraduate chapter being aware of the need for a strong alumni association, stresses the importance of this organization in both pledge and new brother training. Although the Alumni Association is yet very young, there exists a framework of graduates upon which a strong association will be built. The graduates of Enotas have exhibited a continuation of undergraduate brotherhood in organizing a strong Alumni Association with a specific purpose and objectives.

BROTHERHOOD OF ENOTAS

It has been said, by a leader of our campus administration, that to have a large fraternity and maintain brotherhood is a real challenge. ENOTAS has achieved its biggest success in meeting this challenge. Our record exhibits a history of accomplishment which is exemplary of the true sense of brotherhood which is ENOTAS fraternity. Whether on the playing field, in the classroom, or during a social function, fraternity is the spirit that makes ENOTAS first. This spirit of brotherhood runs deep throughout the entirety of our membership and is held at the center of our every undertaking. It is our tradition and at the same time our strength. To attempt to define it would be like trying to explain love or define beauty. Some things can only be experienced first hand. To explain them in words is beyond the capability of most men. Our brotherhood falls into this category. We must let it suffice to say that the true spirit of brotherhood, which every ENOTAS brother has helped to build, can be inadequately compared to the oil that must be fed to the great machines that make up the industrial might of our age. In order for these machines to run smoothly, produce power, and provide maximum satisfaction, they must have oil. An outstanding fraternity can be compared to these great machines. In order for it to run smoothly, produce power, and provide maximum satisfaction for its members, it must have brotherhood as a machine must have lubrication. Our fraternity operates like this well lubricated machine. The fraternal spirit is the oil that produces the power and provides the satisfaction which makes ENOTAS fraternity number one. The brothers of ENOTAS know this spirit by experiencing it. We hope our record stands as proof to those who have not had the opportunity to experience this spirit as a brother of ENOTAS.
